PUBLISHER'S LETTER

A Glimpse Into Tragedy

Dear Reader,

Those of you who read this column regularly may have noticed my enduring interest in poetry. Today I would like to share a poem that few have seen. It was written by William McHale, my grandfather, and appeared many years ago in the Chilton Times-Journal, which he published in the 30s and 40s.

The poem is heartfelt and sad, dealing with the death of his son in early childhood. This brings to mind the oft repeated maxim that parents should never have to bury their children. Over the years the poem has meant a great deal to everyone in our family, helping my siblings and cousins to remember the uncle that we lost without ever knowing him.

For Michael Had I But Known

*Had I but known he did not come to stay,
That he was just a transient little guest
By heaven sent and thither shortly bound
How avidly his smallest small request
I should have heard, and its appeasement found.*

*If I had known he entered at my gate
Only to pause on his far homeward flight –
Sweet soul ordained to bear no taint of earth –
How I had schemed to make the hours more bright
And shield his dimpled hands from every hurt.*

*But I knew not. There are tomorrows yet,
I thought, to mend the playthings wrecked today.
Then, lo, a muffling silence stilled the noise
Of clamorous mirth, for he had gone his way
And left my heart like his poor broken toys.*

William McHale

Keep bicyclists safe on the roadways

May Law of the Month: Bicycle Safety

As summer approaches, we can expect more people to be out on their bicycles. In Wisconsin, bicycles are considered vehicles on the road, so they have the same rights and obey the same laws as motorists. The Wisconsin State Patrol reminds drivers and bicyclists to be aware of their surroundings and share the road to keep everyone safe.

Bicycles are harder to see on the roads and don't have the same safety features as vehicles, so riders are at greater risk of being hurt or killed in a crash. Bicycles are involved in an average of 705 crashes every year in Wisconsin. Seven bicyclists were killed in crashes in Wisconsin in 2023 and 699 were hurt, according to preliminary data.

"We want bicyclists to be able to enjoy the nice weather and take in the beauty of our state without fear of a crash," said Wisconsin State Patrol Superintendent Tim Carnahan. "Both motorists and bicyclists need to use extra caution and share the responsibility of creating safe roads for everyone to use."

Driver responsibilities:

- If you see a bicyclist, slow down. The higher the vehicle speed, the higher the likelihood a bicyclist will be seriously injured or killed in the event of a crash.

- Use caution. Bicycles have a smaller profile, so it is harder to judge their speed and distance.

- Look twice for bicycles. Many crashes happen when drivers pull out from a stop sign, turn left or change lanes.

- If parking along the street, always check the side mirrors and look back before opening doors. Opening a vehicle door into the path of a bicyclist can cause them to lose balance or flip over.

- State law prohibits motor vehicles from driving in a bicycle lane, except to enter a driveway, merge into a bicycle lane before turning at an intersection, or enter or leave a parking space located adjacent to the bicycle lane. Bicycles have the right-of-way.

- State law requires drivers to stay at least three feet away from a bicycle.

Bicyclist responsibilities:

- Wear protective gear, including a helmet.
- Obey all traffic laws, signs and signals.
- Be aware of your surroundings. Check behind you, especially when changing lanes. Keep an eye on vehicles when approaching intersections. Watch for opening car doors.

- Be visible. Stay out of blind spots and use extra caution near larger vehicles like buses and trucks.

- State law requires bicyclists to use signals when turning or stopping. Signals may be given by a lamp or hand and arm.

- Make it easier for drivers to see you. Wearing reflective and bright clothing. State law requires lights and reflectors during hours of darkness.

- The back of a bicycle must have reflective tape or a steady or flashing red light, and a white light is required on the front.

Frost Farm Alpaca annual shearing day held on May 4

Frost Farms Alpaca store is open on Fridays and Saturdays from 10-4 and has recently added a new coffee item called AlpacaMyBags. Nesting balls are available now for those seeking spring bird-nesting materials and the farm will be having a tour coordinated with the Coloma library this summer.

Several local people came out to watch the 12 females and 5 males receive toenail clippings and a shearing asking questions throughout the process.

First up for a shearing was Annaliese who is turning 15 soon. Alpacas live to be between 15-20 years. Frost Farms believes in keeping their alpacas in even in their senior years as they are special to the owners. Annaliese's fleece joined the others for a nearly 120-pound farm harvest. Her first soft layer will be spun into yarn while the second will be used for socks, hats, and mittens. Annaliese has had eight registered babies in her lifetime.

Frost Farms Alpaca shearing event was conducted by the nationally owned TopKnot Alpaca Care based in Moslua, MT. Foreman Steve Zamitalo said his traveling team has personally sheared nearly 500 alpacas since the beginning of April of the 12,000 TopKnot will complete throughout the central US region before the end of May. If owners wait too long to shear, the summer heat will have the animals sweating, turning their undercoats yellow from sweat. Steve said the team he works with takes an average of seven to nine minutes per animal to shear.
